

jute... comfortable underfoot

Jute is silky to the touch - the finest and softest of all the natural fibres - so it's beautifully comfortable underfoot. Grown in the more humid parts of Bangladesh, the jute fibres are taken from the middle of the stalk before being washed and then dried in the sun before they are spun. The finished, biscuit-coloured fibre is a fine one, so we feel that it works best in lighter wearing areas - it will help create the most relaxed and comfortable bedrooms.
